Ancestral Wisdom & Living Legacy Action Guide

A Transformational Journey with Dr. Mindahi Bastida

SECTION 1: ORIENTATION & SETTING INTENTIONS

Welcome to this Journey

❖ What does ancestral wisdom mean to you at this stage in your life?

❖ What are your hopes for this experience?

❖ Reflect on a moment when you felt deeply connected to nature, your lineage, or a greater cosmic force. Describe that experience.

Choosing Your Learning Path

❖ In what ways are you ready to engage with this Accelerator?

- ☐ Dynamic Active Participation
- ☐ Research and Document Your Ancestral Lineage
- ☐ Dedicated Journaling
- ☐ Implementing Wisdom Principles into Daily Life
- ☐ Practice Original Principles / Ceremonies / Rites
- ☐ Field Engagement E.g., Visit Sacred Sites
- ☐ Supporting Community Stewardship E.g., Local Ecological Restoration
- ☐ Engaging in Intercultural Dialogue

In your own words, please include any additional ways in which you are ready to engage in this Accelerator:

❖ How will you integrate these teachings into your personal and professional life?

Connecting with Your Ancestral Lineage

❖ Write down the name of the Ancestor and their cultural lineage you feel drawn to explore. (Cultural Lineages E.g., Scottish, Japanese, Israeli, Hawaiian, Norwegian)

*Because you will be diving deep, we recommend that you select one Ancestor and their direct lineage for this first learning journey.

❖ What stories, qualities, or wisdom have been passed forward from them?

❖ What are three ways you might honor their legacy during this Accelerator?

SECTION 2: UNDERSTANDING THE FIVE EARTH MANDATES

CLICK HERE to open Your Living Legacy Journal 2

The Five Earth Mandates were received through ceremonies with over 100 Native Elders. These sacred directives are meant to guide humanity in restoring harmony and balance to the world.

Reflection Exercise: Living the Earth Mandates

Each mandate has profound implications for personal and collective responsibility. In this exercise, reflect on the Earth Mandates and how you are currently engaging or could be applying them in your own life.

Please share your reflections:

Mandate	Your Reflection: How does this apply to you?
1. Establishing Councils for Earth Stewardship	How do you participate in community leadership or environmental stewardship?
2. Protecting Key Biocultural Sites	Are there sacred or natural sites in your region that require protection? How might you contribute?
3. Creating Centers of Traditional Knowledge	What ancestral wisdom or traditional knowledge have you inherited that could benefit your community? Where could you access ancestral wisdom or traditional knowledge in your community that could be of benefit to you and your family?

4. Engaging in Intercultural Dialogue & Storytelling	How can you create bridges and bring value with indigenous Peoples and wisdom in spaces where you live, travel, invest, and work?
5. Regenerating Biocultural Territories	In what ways can you contribute to environmental restoration or indigenous land protection?

SECTION 3: COSMIC ORIGINS & ANCESTRAL CONNECTIONS

Exploring Your Cosmic Lineage

Reflect on the idea that your ancestry extends beyond human human family to the cosmos, the earth, deities, and all of nature.

Journal Prompts:

1. What does it mean to you that your ancestry is cosmic in origin? Country / Bioregion: Constellation:
2. If you were to introduce yourself not just by name, but by cultural lineage, land, and cosmic relations, what would you say?

Activity: Mapping Your Lineage

Begin researching and documenting your lineage by tracing the roots of your family's origins, cultures, and ancestral lands.

This may include:

https://www.familysearch.org/

https://www.myheritage.com/ For any paid sites, connect to your library for ALL resources.

- Your parents, grandparents, great grandparents, and—if known—further back
- The landscapes they called home—landforms, waterways, and ecological regions
- Their traditional trades, spiritual beliefs, or cultural practices

- The strengths they embodied, the struggles they faced, and the legacies they passed forward

Resources:

For U.S.-based research, there are resources available through the U.S. National Archives. We have added links to some of the databases and tools for researching and documenting.

SECTION 4: ORIGINAL PRINCIPLES & CEREMONIAL PRACTICES

The Earth Elders embody original principles—ways of being that sustain good living. These include Love, Reciprocity, Responsibility, Respect, Gratitude, Foresight, and Learning.

#	Focus	Principle	Description
1	Love Humanity and Mother Earth	Love	The foundational force that connects, nurtures, and sustains all life.
2	Spatially Connect to the Cosmic Directions	Orientation	Attuning to the sacred directions, elements, and celestial constellations for guidance.
3	Aligning with the Cycles of Nature and Celestial Beings	Harmony	Living in alignment with the natural, seasonal, and cosmic rhythms of life.
4	Harmonizing Relations with Humans and Nature	Reciprocity	Giving and receiving in mutual harmony with nature, people, and place.
5	Creating and Recognizing Abundance	Abundance	Participating in and celebrating the infinite generativity of nature.
6	Building Robust Socio-Ecological Networks	Kinship	Recognizing the sacred interdependence and cooperation of all living systems.
7	Asking Permission and Giving Thanks Through Offerings	Honor	Acting with humility, reverence, and acknowledgment of the sacred in all things.

8	Making Sacred Payments	Offerings	Contributing materially and spiritually to the care of land, lineage, and Spirit.
9	Helping Maintain Universal Order	Balance	Upholding cosmic and ecological cycles, rhythms, and harmony that maintain life's balance.
10	Anticipating Disruptions & Resilience	Resilience	Cultivating adaptability, protection, and regeneration through times of change.
11	Dynamic Conservation Practices	Regeneration	Revitalizing ecological and cultural systems through sacred, living systems and practices.
12	Learning & Transmitting to Future Generations	Foresight	Acting with awareness and responsibility for future generations and continuity.
13	Upholding the Dignity of All Life	Gratitude	Honoring, respecting, and protecting the sacred essence and rights of all life forms.

Personal Reflection Exercise:

- ❖ How do you currently embody these principles in your life, life's work, and impact?
- ❖ Which one(s) do you feel called to cultivate more deeply?

Ceremonial Practice Inquiry:

Are there ceremonies from your lineage that have been passed to you, or ceremonies you can research in your family or culture that you would like to learn more about?

- Water Blessings
- Fire Ceremonies
- Land Acknowledgment Rituals
- Offerings to Ancestors

Set your intentions for your Ancestors past, present, and future, and your life, life's work, and impact. Share how you will offer ceremony to pave paths forward for your Ancestral lineage:

SECTION 5: SACRED SITES & ECOLOGICAL STEWARDSHIP

Dr. Mindahi Bastida and the Earth Elders teach that sacred sites hold memory and transmit wisdom and power.

Action: Local Sacred Site Connection.

Find a local sacred site near you.

Ask permission to enter.

Make an offering.

Spend time observing, listening, and connecting.

Record any insights, messages, or intuitive guidance, and share.

Exercise: Identifying Sacred Places

❖ What places in nature do you feel drawn to or deeply connected with?

❖ Have you visited sites that felt "alive" or spiritually significant? Describe your experience.

❖ How might you engage with these places in a way that honors their sacredness?

Record any insights, messages or intuitive guidance that you have received, either spoken or unspoken:

SECTION 6: CREATING YOUR LIVING LEGACY

As we become the Ancestors of the future, it is invaluable to reflect on the legacy we are co-creating for future generations.

Visioning Exercise: Your Living Legacy Statement

1. Imagine you are an Ancestor 100 years from now. What do you hope people will remember about you and the ripple of impact you generated?
2. What work do you feel called to do that will contribute today and far into the future?
3. What is one concrete action you will take during this Accelerator to honor your role in your Ancestral lineages? E.g., discover and honor the stories of Ancestors lives through storytelling / publishing, create or make a donation to a fund for education, environment, etc.

Living Legacy Commitment:

At the beginning of this first phase of Your Living Legacy, referring back to what you've learned about Dr. Mindahi Bastida, the Earth Elders, and the Earth Mandates, write a personal living legacy commitment for how you envision honoring your Ancestors and your Ancestral gifts through your daily life, work, and leadership for the greater world.

You will evolve this throughout the Accelerator.*

Ancestral Wisdom & Living Legacy Action Guide

Module 0: Cosmic Origins

A Transformational Journey with Dr. Mindahi Bastida

HOW TO UTILIZE THIS ACTION GUIDE

This Action Guide is designed to be your companion throughout Module 0: Cosmic Origins and to support active learning, reflection, and real-world application of the Earth Mandates and Original Principles.

To deepen your experience:
✅ Watch the videos first to immerse yourself in the teachings.

✅ Allocate 20 - 30 minutes per session, at least 4 - 5 times per week, to engage in active learning, reflection, and real-world applications.
✅ Utilize this guide to engage with the Earth Mandates, integrating them into your life, family, community, and leadership.
✅ Record your reflections in your Ancestral Wisdom Journal to capture insights, practices, and commitments.

The Earth Mandates anchor this journey, guiding you to embody ancestral wisdom while creating impact in business, governance, community leadership, and environmental stewardship.

> "We learn from each other. We are mirrors and activators of one another." – Dr. Mindahi Bastida

Setting Your Sacred Space & Activating Biocultural Sites

Create an intentional space—indoors (altar, meditation area) or outdoors (mountain, river, sacred site)—where you can attune to the cosmos and nature. Add meaningful items from your lineage—photos, stones, icons, symbols—as offerings to honor ancestral wisdom.

🌎 Earth Mandate 2: Activating Key Biocultural and Sacred Sites

Recognizing and engaging with sacred sites is a conscious return to the origins—of land, cosmos, and ancestral wisdom.

1. Where is your sacred space located? *

   Is it indoors or outdoors? Describe the space where you will be honoring this journey, meditating, and reflecting on your ancestral wisdom and living legacy.

2. What meaningful items have you included to honor your Ancestor and lineage? *
   Examples: photos, candles, heirlooms, stones, icons, sacred texts, musical instruments, or ancestral symbols.

🌎 Earth Mandate 2: Activating Key Biocultural and Sacred Sites

Recognizing sacred sites aligns Earth to celestial bodies and the original wisdom of the lands and cosmos. Activating our awareness of sacred sites is a conscious return to the origins of our ancestral wisdom to the cosmos, allowing us to align with celestial wisdom and earthly stewardship. Engaging with sacred sites deepens our connection to our ancestors, enhancing our role in biocultural renewal, regeneration, and sustainability.

1. What do you know about the Ancestor or lineage you are bringing on this journey? *

   Share any stories, names, cultures, regions, or traditions that connect you and your Ancestor and lineage.

2. What ancestral qualities or wisdom do you feel most connected to? *

   Examples: resilience, foresight, land stewardship, artistry, spirituality

3. What do you hope to discover about them—and about yourself—on this journey? *

   Write your curiosities, questions, hopes, or visions for this sacred exploration.

Sacred Site Research

4. What sacred site(s) are connected to your Ancestor and lineage? *

   Include the name of the site, its region, and why it is significant (culturally, historically, or spiritually).

5. If you live in a different region, visit a sacred site near you and make an offering (flowers, cocoa, tobacco, a song or prayer of gratitude, a philanthropic act, etc). *

   List the name of the local site, its location, and its significance to the land and people (culturally, historically, or spiritually).

Reflection: Connection to Sacred Sites and Ancestors *

6. How has engaging with these sacred sites—distant or local—deepened your connection to your Ancestors and their wisdom? *

   Reflect on what you felt, received, learned, or remembered.

SECTION 2: INVOCATION (Module 0.2)

Calling Forth Lineage, Light & Sacred Responsibility

An invocation is a sacred act of calling upon your Ancestors and your shared Lineage for guidance, protection, and wisdom. In this invocation, recognize your lineage, spiritual roots, your sacred responsibilities, and your connection to all that exists—seen and unseen.

[Earth Mandate 1: Establishing Councils for Earth Stewardship (Global and Bioregional Stewardship)

It is vital to arrive at all locations with honor and respect by acknowledging the Original Peoples of the lands and their ancestors. This sets a solid foundation for where we live, work, travel, and conduct business. Recognizing the history, culture, and ongoing presence of ancestral wisdom is essential to fostering true stewardship.

When Original Peoples still reside in areas, engage with them respectfully and in alignment with their cultural protocols. This includes observing Free, Prior, and Informed Consent (FPIC) and following Native protocols rooted in reciprocity—"Giving and Receiving."

In North America, this may involve bringing tobacco, special symbols, or meaningful gifts. And in Mexico, including offerings such as copal, flowers, fruits, crystals, mezcal, pulque, or any other meaningful offerings may be appropriate. Respect and collaboration are key, as leadership within Original communities takes many forms—some leaders are spiritual guides, while some serve as traditional authorities, and some are both. Understanding and honoring these distinctions allows for deeper, more authentic, trusting partnerships.

By approaching with humility and respect, meaningful collaboration can begin and flourish.

🌎 Earth Mandate 1: Establishing Councils for Earth Stewardship

Invocations are calls to align our spirits with celestial councils and earthly wisdom, bridging ancestral wisdom with our daily intentions and actions. This sacred act underscores our responsibilities to past, present, and future generations, fostering an ethos rooted in respect and reverence.

Ancestral Invocation Exercise

Write an Ancestral invocation:

❖ Greet your Ancestors. *

Open with reverence—acknowledge your Ancestors by name, lineage, and energy.

Example: "Beloved Grandmother Rosa of the Riverlands, and all those who came before me—I greet you with honor..."

❖ Express gratitude for their wisdom and efforts. *

Thank them for their love, sacrifices, knowledge, and wisdom that brought you to this moment.

What qualities, choices, or traditions are you grateful for?

❖ State your intention for this journey. *

What are your aspirations? What is your heart longing to remember, reclaim, or restore in your Ancestral lineage?

❖ Request for guidance and wisdom. *

Invite your Ancestors to reveal the wisdom, strength, and teachings you are meant to remember and embody.

❖ Articulate how you will share their wisdom with the world.

How will you honor and activate your ancestral gifts bestowed in your family, leadership, community, impact, and stewardship of the Earth?

Daily Invocation Practice:

Speak your invocation aloud at sunrise or sunset, facing the Sun as your Cosmic Father. Reflect on the connection you feel when you call your Ancestors forth in the light of Father Sun.

Journal Reflection:

❖ What insights, feelings, and memories arose as you shared your Invocation aloud?

Include any visions, messages, understandings you recognize.

❖ How does acknowledging your Ancestors shift your sense of connection and responsibility to your family, community, and the planet?

Reflect on any new awareness, gratitude, or clarity that emerged.

MODULE 0 - SECTION 3: ANCESTRAL CONNECTIONS (Module 0.3)

Click Here to open Your Living Legacy — Cosmic Origins — Journal 3

"We are in this world as a result of all the interrelationships that have happened in the past and are still going on today." — Dr. Mindahi Bastida

[Earth Mandate 4: Engaging Intercultural Dialogue and Exchange

Intercultural dialogue and exchange serve as vital bridges for honoring biocultures—the deep, living connections between people, place, and tradition. Collaboration with Original Peoples, Original Principles, and Ceremonies, where Elders and youth unite to share wisdom, and where visitors—whether business, investors, travelers, or leaders of regional, national, and international institutions such as the UN engage with these traditions in meaningful ways. Together, we can learn from the knowledge of our relatives of Original Peoples of the natural world—land, water, sky, stars, and ecosystems—supporting awareness and advocacy for the stewardship of life and the future of humanity.

Central to this exchange, and foundational to local and global collaboration, is respect for biocultures of the world by honoring Original Peoples, Territories, and Ceremonies. Approaching intercultural exchange of economy, resources, ideas, technologies, innovations, businesses, and intellectual property with integrity and reciprocity is pivotal. Establishing clear and respectful collaboration agreements—through contracts, formalized partnerships, and arrangements—initiates alignment and benefit for all.

By paving pathways and building bridges for integrating ancestral wisdom with modern innovations, we can reimagine partnerships, agreements, contracts, and enterprise and institutional frameworks in ways that prioritize shared-vision, values, alignment, and reciprocity, benefiting collaborations for all parties equitably.

It is imperative that we acknowledge historical injustices and relate in ways that facilitate healing the memories of broken agreements and colonial harms. Through this, together, we can co-create futures rooted in trust, respect, and shared stewardship of life on Earth. And, through dialogue, storytelling, and shared vision in action, we can increase awareness of humanity's interconnectedness, forging new futures that give rise to our sacred responsibility as an honor to protect life in all its forms.

🌎 Earth Mandate 4: Engaging Intercultural Dialogue and Exchange

Intercultural dialogue and exchange are vital for honoring biocultures—the deep, living connections amongst people, place, and tradition. Engaging with the relatives of the Original Peoples and their wisdom facilitates us bridging past and present, fostering a collective stewardship of Earth that enriches our future.

Ancestral Mapping Exercise

❖ Create a written or visual ancestral map of your lineage.

You may sketch or use a digital family tree tool and attach a link/file. (Upload a sketch or enter if written)

Include:

- The names of your known Ancestors.

- Regions and cultures they originated from.

- Values, traditions, and knowledge passed forward.

❖ If you are less familiar with your Ancestry:

Explore one or more of the following options and share your reflections below.

- Research the lands and cultures connected to your Ancestors and lineage.

  E.g.: Regions, Tribes, Cultures, Languages, Mountains, Volcanoes, Oceans, Rivers, Wetlands, Sky Patterns)

- Discover a traditional story, poem, myth, or song from your Ancestral region.

  How do the symbols, elements, or beings—mythical, deities, elements—resonate with your personal path and cultural identity?

- Interview a family or community Elder about oral stories and ancestral knowledge.

  What stories, memories, or teachings did they share with you?

- Use resources like the U.S. National Archives or a family genealogy site.

  Did you discover any immigration patterns, family names, or sacred locations in your lineage?

Journal Prompt:

❖ Write a significant story about your ancestor or shared lineage.
Share the story with loved ones—family, friends, or your community.

Reflect on how this story shapes your sense of your heritage, the values or identity you carry forward, and influences the way you live, lead, create, and serve.

This section invites you into a deeper relationship with your roots to unlock the wisdom that lives within your family lines and bioregions. We encourage you to document your ancestral stories and the wisdom therein.

SECTION 4: COSMIC FAMILY, ANCESTORS, & LINEAGE

"In the beginning, all was darkness. Then light emerged, and where all was silence, sound broke through." — Dr. Mindahi Bastida

[Earth Mandate 3: Building Traditional Houses of Original Wisdom and Thought

Establishing Houses of Original Wisdom and Thought honors the deep traditions of knowledge-sharing, reflection, and wisdom transmission found in Original Peoples and Cultures. While these "Houses" may have different names across traditions, their essence remains the same: they are places where sacred fire burns—both literally and symbolically—representing the space "around the fire" where communities gather to learn, share, and evolve Original knowledge with leading science and technology.

The sacred fire is a guiding force. Grandfather Fire illuminates the mysteries and transmutes what must be transformed into wisdom. These houses serve as dynamic spaces for inquiry, storytelling, and the preservation and perpetuation of ancestral teachings and wisdom.

When new ideas, systems, businesses, technologies, and economies arrive in a territory, when introduced through awareness, collaboration, and respect, the fire supports the integration of Original wisdom and modern innovations. Aligned processes such as these, are the essence of the Original Houses of Wisdom ensuring that wisdom is not only preserved, it is supported in its activation, growing in harmony with the land, the people, and the sacred traditions of the region.]

🌎 Earth Mandate 3: Building Traditional Houses of Original Wisdom and Thought

Traditional Houses of Wisdom serve as hubs of ancestral knowledge. Connecting to our ancestry, back to our cosmic origins, illuminates our relationship to the universe's primal forces, rhythms, and cycles, guiding and embodiment knowledge, wisdom, and potential. These spaces are transformative for cultivating an understanding of life's interconnectivity and accessing pathways for long-term success that honor our collective lineages.

Reflection Exercise

1. What does it mean to you to have Celestial Family, Ancestors, and Lineage?
   Reflect on your relationship with celestial bodies—Sun, Moon, Planets, and Stars—and how they may shape your understanding of life, spirit, and connection.

2. Have you had a direct and profound experience with your Celestial Family?

   This may be an experience of awe in nature, a ceremony, dream, or vision. How have these experiences influenced how you relate to your family, community, work, and impact?

Sound & Light Meditation Practice

Find a quiet and intentional space.

- Play or listen to a singing bowl, conch shell, flute, drum, or the rhythm of your own heartbeat.

- Breathe deeply and allow yourself to drop into presence.

- Visualize yourself as part of an infinite Ancestral lineage, stretching back through generations to the origins of the Cosmos.
- Envision planets, stars, and constellations—those same bodies that guided your ancestors across oceans, deserts, and lifetimes.

❖ What visions, feelings, or messages arose during your meditation?

Did you feel a presence, see a symbol, hear a sound, or receive a message, or have any intuitive impressions. Allow the mystery to speak through you.

❖ How might your Ancestors have interacted with or been guided by the Planets and Stars?

Consider their cosmologies, ceremonies, navigation techniques, mythologies, or ritual practices. How might these still live in you today?

[Same as above Ancestral Wisdom Living Legacy Realizations]

SECTION 5: THE EMERGENCE OF HUMANITY (Module 0.5)

Click Here to open Your Living Legacy — Cosmic Origins — Journal 5

"We are the synthesis of all that has ever existed in the universe, our galaxy, our solar system, and Mother Earth." — Dr. Mindahi Bastida

[Earth Mandate 5: Strengthening Biocultural Territories

Biocultural territories embody the sacred, inseparable bond between Original Peoples and the living Earth—a relationship deeply rooted in unity with the Cosmos, lands, waters, and all beings across time and space. This sacred stewardship calls for recognizing and honoring the interconnectedness of what lies above, below, and between what we know, bridging the past, present, and future generations and knowledge through reverence for natural and celestial cycles.

At the heart of strengthening biocultural territories, is the protection and revitalization of Universal Laws, Rights of Nature, and honoring of the Peoples, Lands, Waters, and their knowledge and wisdom. By affirming Earth's inherent jurisprudence, we transcend human-centered, anthropocentric systems that prioritize human gain over ecological balance.

By instilling governance that allows all life—human and non-human "relatives"—to thrive, the relatives of our Original Peoples and Nations, as stewards of 80% of the world's biocultural diversity, hold ancestral wisdom and authority to guide the essential shift necessary today. Their wisdom teaches us to recognize the natural world, not as a resource—as relatives worthy of love, respect, and care.

Integral to this shift is to move from short-term focus and benefits to an ethos of long-term intergenerational reciprocity—where all beings benefit. By aligning with the Laws of Nature, we embrace our roles as children of Mother Earth who listen deeply, learn humbly, and act with reverence. This is where we recognize our biocultural identity, where we honor our sacred responsibility as a gift that heals, protects, and co-creates futures where we as a humanity live in harmony with one another and the Earth.]

🌎 Earth Mandate 5: Strengthening Biocultural Territories

Biocultural territories encompass ecosystems, cultures, people, and the environment—elements that define our place in space through time. These territories link the past, present, and future, influencing the success of how we live, travel, invest, and conduct business. They form a tapestry of interconnected life, where human actions resonate with the broader community of deities, animals, and environmental forces, shaping our shared existence. Bioculture is the foundation of humanity, highlighting the integral relationship between humans and nature.

Action Step

Nature as Ancestry Exercise

1. Identify a natural element you feel deeply connected to.

   Examples: A mountain, forest, meadow, ocean, river, or sky body.

2. Research and write about this element's "Life Story."

   Explore its history, geological formation, seasonal rhythms, ecological role, or cultural symbolism.

   How has it evolved over time? What wisdom does it carry? What stories or cycles is it part of?

Guided Visualization:

Find a quiet space. Close your eyes and slow and deepen your breath.

- Envision yourself walking backwards through time, tracing your lineage.
- Arrive at your first Ancestor, beyond time, beyond culture—pure essence.
- Sit together around a sacred fire. Witness and feel the transfer of wisdom, generation by generation.
- Let the wisdom arrive to you—fully—here and now.

Journal Prompt:

❖ What knowledge, messages, or sacred responsibilities have been entrusted to you?

Reflect on what you received during your visualization or contemplation. What are you being asked to carry, protect, or share?

❖ What wisdom will you pass forward to future generations?

This may include stories, values, environmental practices, teachings, or your unique way of being in right relationship with life.

SECTION 6: CREATION STORIES (Module 0.6)

[Earth Mandate 2: Activating Key Biocultural and Sacred Sites
Approaching the activation of sacred and biocultural sites with deep awareness of their spiritual, ecological, and cultural significance is essential. These places are vital energy centers, home to elemental beings, caretakers, deities, and other entities who sustain the balance of life. They also hold special minerals, elements, and crystals that radiate energies essential for the well-being of the world.

Honoring and safeguarding these sites requires alignment and adherence to Sacred Site Protocols, grounded in biocultural memory, intercultural ceremony, and pilgrimage practices. Respectful engagement involves recognizing the interconnected roles of:

- Traditional Leaders – Those who oversee traditional governance, political structures, policies, and ceremonies and who bring people together on-site and in the community.
- Spiritual Leaders – Wisdom Keepers who hold deep knowledge of the site's energies, and guide, conduct, and implement on-site ceremonies, rituals, rites of passage, and practices.
- Local Community – Native and local stewards who maintain and safeguard these sacred places.
- Visitors – Those who come to experience, learn from, or pay respects to the site.

By learning Original Principles, and following them, we support the awareness and activation of sacred spaces as sources of healing, wisdom, and harmony today and for generations to come.]

🌎 Earth Mandate 2: Activating Key Biocultural and Sacred Sites

Through the lens of creation stories, we engage with the timeless wisdom embedded in our biocultural landscapes, invoking a profound respect for the natural world. These narratives not only guide us in protecting sacred sites and in understanding our roles within them, deepening our connection to Earth's living history.

Action Step

Your Ancestral Creation Story

1. Research and write about one of your lineages' Origin Stories? This could involve migration to new lands or connections to myths from your culture.
2. Does your culture have a Creation Story? Write your Creation Story, or summary of it, and reflect on its teachings.
3. Cross reference your Story with another culture's Creation Story. Identify universal themes that emerge.

Creative Expression Exercise:

- Draw, write, or add symbols (such as Animals, Elements, Stars) that feel significant, empowering, and relevant to your legacy. This creative process helps encapsulate and express the deep connections you have uncovered through your explorations.

SECTION 7: INTEGRATIONS & PRACTICES (0.7)

We encourage you to incorporate five exercises to your Ancestral Wisdom Living Legacy Journal.

1. Bringing Your Ancestor and shared Lineage on the Journey

- Document family names, oral histories, and cultural connections in your Ancestral Chart.
- Add photos, historical documents, newspaper articles, deeds, etc., to enrich your understanding of your lineage.

2. Setting Your Intentions

- Write down three intentions that you will track during this journey.

  Intention 1
  Intention 3

- Speak them aloud as a commitment to yourself and your Ancestors.

3. Cosmic Origins Connections

- Sit in a quiet place, breathe deeply, and visualize the Planets and Stars, your Ancestors, and yourself interconnected. Spend 5 - 15 minutes in this reflective state.
- Draw or write the messages or images that come to you during the visualization.

4. Giving Thanks to Your Ancestors

- Write a letter, poem, song, or create art in gratitude to your Ancestors both human and cosmic.
- Share an important gift or lesson that you have learned from them and how you intend to pass forward this wisdom to future generations.

5. Gratitude to Your Animal Guides

- Reflect on animal(s) you have encountered since beginning your ancestral wisdom journey.
- Research their spiritual meaning and consider how their energy and symbolism influence your life.
- Write about how these guides inform and inspire your growth.

SECTION 8: CLOSING REFLECTION & NEXT STEPS (0.8)

As we conclude this Module, take a moment to reflect on the knowledge and experiences you've gathered. These reflections are vital for integrating the lessons learned into your daily life and for planning how you might continue to honor and leverage this wisdom moving forward.

Final Reflection Questions:

1. Profound Insights:
    - What are the three most profound insights you gained from this module?
2. Honoring Ancestors:
    - How will you continue honoring your ancestors in ways that are meaningful and impactful?
3. Integrating Wisdom:
    - What specific actions will you take to integrate this wisdom into your daily life?
4. Earth Mandate Integration:
    - How will you apply the Earth Mandates in your life, leadership, community, family, or business?
